

Sound Quality:

“We immediately tested that and used Mozart´s Requiem to do so.

... The precise and detailed reproduction of the instruments as well as of the choral singing has left us really impressed...

... We obviously were curious about the home cinema performance of the SB 180. The popular helicopter attack in the antiwar film „Apocalypse Now Redux“ answered all our questions in the most spectacular way: First of all, the rotor noises and the music by Wagner gradually create suspense resulting in a bombastic inferno of explosions and bursts of machine guns - thus drawing the listener straight into the infernal scenario.

The subwoofer perfectly complements the soundbar and highlights the full impact of the attack with a dynamic bass groundwork...

Conclusion:

The Magnat SB 180 has achieved 88.9 out of 100 points and earns the second best test result grade “good”. The slim soundbar in conjunction with the compact external subwoofer provides a very good sound quality enhancing the TV sound significantly, while also being perfectly suitable for music and home cinema. Available for the moderate price of 249 Euro, the Magnat SB 180 offers an excellent price/performance ratio...”

Read the full review in the Satvision issue 11/17.