Magnat Signature 1105

Testurteil: überragend

TEST RESULT: OUTSTANDING

“The Magnat 1105 is surprising us with a wide stage, but the drums’ performance is also great: punchy without exaggerating though. This phenomenon can often be observed in this price class, because many people still believe that an overemphasized bass is “better”, only because it sounds more spectacular. Actually the opposite is true and the Magnat offers a coherence of lowest and highest sounds that we find exceptional in this price class.”

“At the latest when the trumpet begins to play and sounds so very real, it becomes obvious that the 1105 plays on a level that many a more expensive speaker does not reach. Who owns speakers that are past their prime of life, who truly loves listening to music and who has a feeling for sound quality, should listen to the Magnat Signature 1105 as they offer an attractive sound quality level, particularly in view of their price range.”

“[...] With the Magnat it is easy to distinguish the individual instruments from each other. What’s more they offer a strong beat that virtually invites you to increase the volume on the amplifier.”

Conclusion:

“With their Signature 1105, Magnat have created really exciting loudspeakers and this is primarily due to the absolutely convincing sound quality. There are however additional valuable circumstances, such as massive aluminium traverses, eight instead of just four fixing screws for the bass drivers and optimum cable bridges from the outset instead of simple sheets. In view of all these advantages we are willing to accept that there are only two colours available: black and white – but for sure one of them will match with our interior. However, once you listen to them this issue will fade into the background as these sound athletes will just deeply impress you with their spectacular performance.”
