

OUTSTANDING Sound/Practice/Workmanship/Overall

FLOORSTANDING SPEAKER WITH HIRES-LICENCE

“[...] Who has ever listened to live concerts at almost original volume with the Signature 1109, will never want to do without anymore. And this requires amplifiers with substantially increased performance. In a second experiment we combined the Magnat speakers with the RV4, a hybrid integrated amplifier of the same brand. Actually in my opinion the RV4 is a little bit too reserved, but in combination with the Signature 1109 a wonderfully harmonious performance is delivered. This is a couple that allows you to enjoy music for a long long time. [...]“

“[...] as the 1109 also masters the art of quiet tones and delivers at all volumes something cheerful, clear and substantial. There is not simply a bass foundation, but everything is clearly contoured and offers a nice stability, even in the fundamental range. [...]“

“[...] However the Magnat Signature 1109 is absolutely outstanding when it comes to getting loud. It is rare that the hard-kicked bass drums at the beginning of James Blood Ulmer’s live recording “Crying” can be heard that precisely and punch the pit of the stomach so directly with hifi speakers [...]“

Conclusion:

“It is the same story as with all Magnat flagship speakers for the last 20 years: With the Signature 1109 you’ll get a lot for your money. This loudspeaker will not only make you marvelously listen to music, but is also fit for filling larger rooms with sound. And this speaker will allow you to enjoy recorded live concerts at home in a much more convincing way than most other hifi speakers of this size and price range could ever reach. [...] I like such speakers. They do have character and stand out pleasantly from the modern, rather cuddly tunings that have become popular in the whole world. However this attractive agility is always a difficult balancing act: When does the liveliness become stressful? For my ears the Magnat Signature 1109 has perfectly succeeded in overcoming this challenge.“
