" (...) Conclusion:

Magnat knows what is essential about speakers. This becomes obvious right from the beginning when listening to the speakers of the Tempus series and thus it is not surprising that the surround ensemble has almost completely convinced us. Considering their truly fair price combined with their spectacular sound it is easy to ignore some minor details like the speaker feet or the grille made of plastic – especially as one will anyway prefer to look into the wood-panelled face of the Tempus. Only substantially more expensive speakers will offer a tiny bit more plasticity. If you are not willing to pay some hundred Euros more for some subtleties of sound, you can buy Tempus speakers without hesitation. (...)" For the full text look at SFT 07/20.
